

Damn You

Jackson United

in the teeth through the heart you just got me on my knees an i'm so jaded your hand slaps you got my attention i hit back but i'm deflated i'm listening, listening with different ears smiling but oh so guarded scabbed up in all the right places just passing time waiting for a chance just to hit right through you so, damn you and the shit that you put me through damn you and the shit that you put me through

damn you, damn you

revenge i'm dreaming a nightmare it might take a sweet, sweet while you're gonna get what you got coming at you you're gonna walk the longest mile waiting for a chance just to hit right through you

damn you, damn you

damn you, damn you

damn you, damn you
