

What did you think that you'd get with me?
What did you think that you still needed?
Is this everything you wished it'd be?
That we could both just be defeated?

I don't remember birthday cards
I don't remember Easter weekend
I never said this wasn't hard
But my resolve is getting weakened

And if you're tired of waiting
Well you can rest your heart right on this needle
And when we're all deflated
We'll sink in good company
We're stranded out so deep
Hurry up, this lifeboat might be sinking

Don't you let it all go wrong
Could you admit you were strong
Enough to swallow your pride
Enough to be completely finished
I could just lay here and die
You could just stay there and live it
