

Some things never change
Some things never change
Lonely and deranged
Some things stay the same
What would you say?
What would you do?
Yesterday these lies were true
Hope fades away for me and you
A harder way I'm coming to

I'll just wait til you're asleep
To spill my secrets to me

I Pretend that I don't see you there
Pretend you're gone
I Pretend that I don't really care
Pretend you're wrong

I misunderstood the power of a guilty conscience
And would you like to know
What really haunts us?
And could you let the big things go?
The power of the undertow

I'll wait til you're asleep
To spill my secrets to me

I Pretend that I don't see you there
Pretend you're gone
I Pretend that I don't really care
Pretend you're wrong

It's a peace I never knew
I'll battle til I'm blue
Alone forever true
Only to me

Everybody loves rock and roll
But they never stick around for long they get tired of the same old song
All the gold just turns to stone
