

Billboard (If I'm Honest)

Jacob Whitesides

Hello,
Where have you been?
You're about to miss it all,
I would give anything to hear you call,
If I'm honest

Sometimes,
It's all that I can do to keep my head up high,
I'm like a book with empty pages inside,
Cold wind blowing through the window shade,
I'm calling, what else can I say?

I'm like a billboard in the sky,
How many times you passed me by-y-y
You passed me by
You're like a blinking neon light
How many times I bought your lies
Sometimes I wonder why
If I'm honest

My life,
It's not as easy as I make you think.
I close my eyes and I try not to blink,
If I'm honest,
Cold wind blowing through the window shade,
I'm falling faster each and every day

I'm like a billboard in the sky,
How many times you passed me by-y-y
You passed me by
You're like a blinking neon light
How many times I bought your lies
Sometimes I wonder why

Come back, come back
Please don't leave me all alone
Come back, come back
I'm right here
Come back, come back
If you want

I'm like a billboard in the sky,
How many times you passed me by
You passed me by
You're like a blinking neon light
How many times I bought your lies
Sometimes I wonder why

I'm like a billboard in the sky,
How many times you passed me by
Passed me by
You're like a blinking neon light
How many times I bought your lies
Sometimes I wonder why
If I'm honest
