

Feels Like Home

Jaded Heart

The pleasure is mine
It is another stormy night
Well I'm doing fine
I know it's gonna be alright

Well I have seen a million faces
Some I will never see again
And I have played a thousand places
Can't wait to hit the stage again
I just wanna hit the stage again...

It feels like home
So raise your glasses
It feels like home
So raise your glasses
This is all I need

You're coming around
You're living under your dignity
They're dragging you down
But you're chasing this crazy, foolish dream

But then you hear the crowd is calling
And it chills you to the bone
And then the final curtain's falling
For this moment you were born

It feels like home (standing in the spotlight)
So raise your glasses
It feels like home (standing in the spotlight)
So raise your glasses

'Cause it feels like home...

It feels like home (it feels like home)
So raise your glasses (so raise your glasses)
It feels like home (it feels like home)
So raise your glasses (so raise your glasses)

It feels like home (it feels like home)
So raise your glasses (so raise your glasses)
It feels like home (it feels like home)
So raise your glasses (so raise your glasses)

It feels like home
So raise your glasses (it feels like home)
It feels like home
So raise your glasses (so raise your glasses)