

If I Lose

Jaded Heart

Yes I really wonder
I feel like crying in the Rain
How much more can we take
Before we finally go insane
And sometimes I wonder
In the end we'll stand alone
No I don't need to know who's to blame
I just need shelter from the Rain

You've spent a Lifetime of hoping and dreaming
You're giving up, don't give up

'Cause if I lose, if I'm losing faith
There'd be nothing left that really Matters
But i can't tell you to stay

Sometimes I wonder
That Words can cut so deep, they really do
Oh so many things have left unspoken Baby
And now two Souls will finally Bleed, they really do

You spend a Lifetime with hoping and dreaming
I'm giving up, don't give up

'Cause if I lose, if I'm losing my faith
There'd be nothing left that really Matters
And if I lose, if I can't hold you back
You take everything with you that Matters

So you better think twice before you're rolling the Dice
'Cause it Matters ....

Solo

Sometimes I wonder that I'm crying in the Rain
But how much more can I take

If I lose, if I'm losing my faith
There'd be nothing left that really Matters
And if I lose, if I can't hold you back
You take everything with you that Matters

If I lose, if I'm losing my faith
There'd be nothing left that really Matters
And if I lose, if I can't hold you back
You take everything with you that Matters

that Matters
that Matters
But I can't tell you to stay
