Frozen In Fear

Jag Panzer

Another nightmare, she prays her soul to keep Cold hand that touches her as she pretends to sleep

Take this away Let it end

Blood turns to ice when he's near No one believes as she lays awake Each night frozen in fear

Courage escapes her as she tries to scream Can this be happening to daddy's little queen?

When she gets older She'll make him pay She'll cut him down then put him away

One speaks of love, another screams Will she awake from this suffocating dream?
