I've walked into the light on the other side
Beyond the door of life I've left behind
Followed a path I did not know
Washed by many tears
Read the pages of my life
Retraced the wasted years that scarred my soul
Now I must go, someone calls me
Someone is tugging at my soul
Won't let go. Let me go!

When the seal is opened on the book of life Will your name be written there?

To be remembered and follow into the light Or cast down in despair

Sign of the times and things yet to come The truth now revealed
Shall condemn every son
Some will be blessed
Others turned away
Who will be honored on judgement day?

Time is now...To face your fears
Time has come...Wash away the tears
Time is now...For all to kneel
Time has come...Judgement you will feel

In my vision every head and hand Will retain some kind of code Inventory read by a laser scan For everything bought or sold

Accept the way...Come get in line
Accept the new age...Don't be left behind
Accept the way...Do it now today
Accept the new age...Or be cast away

One monetary system for the world A do or die sort of thing All computations flowing through the beast Have we forgotten who is king?

Show me the sign, the sign of the times It's time for a sign

The press of a key is easy for me That's the way it should be What is the cost? Will I be lost? To the hands of the beast

Show me the sign, the sign of the times It's time for a sign Don't be afraid The future is paved The mark's on it's way

Bank by the phone you'll never leave home

A scan is all you'll need Automation in every nation The future is ours to be
