

Legion Immortal

Jag Panzer

When the world is at its end and evil has its way
Who are the ones that will protect and keep what's gone astray?
Steadfast and vigilant holding true to all things past
Ever pressing onward as the ones who will outlast

They will ever stand alone through the test of time
When all else has faltered and broken all bloodlines
They are the ones who will be left but never left behind
Turn your gaze to the west and never look away
Say your prayers to the keepers of the watch every day

Vigilant and true
Will stand for you
Stay ever brave
This world you'll save

They will ever stand alone through the test of time
When all else has faltered and broken all bloodlines
They are the ones who will be left but never left behind
Turn your gaze to the west and never look away
Say your prayers to the keepers of the watch every day

Vigilant and true
Will stand for you
Stay ever brave
This world you'll save

They will ever stand alone through the test of time
They are the ones that will be left but never left behind

When the world is at its end and evil has its way
Who are the ones that will protect and keep what's gone astray?
Steadfast and vigilant holding true to all things past
Ever pressing onward as the ones who will outlast

They will ever stand alone through the test of time
When all else has faltered and broken all bloodlines
They are the ones who will be left but never left behind
Turn your gaze to the west and never look away
Say your prayers to the keepers of the watch every day

Vigilant and true
Will stand for you
Stay ever brave
This world you'll save