Can you forgive me, forgetting the past? Not learning my lessons, I failed the test.
Forgetting the feeling, forgetting you. For only I myself to soothe.

Never turned my back from all the distractions, all of their commentary.
Now I know who I am, and I understand. No one can take this from me.

In my head it's caving in, in my heart is where I begin. For the loss of your love.

Somebody stop me, I'll take it too far. Forget all my boundaries and touch the stars.
When I look at the sky and the darkness is light.

Never turned my back from all the distractions, all of their commentary.
Now I know who I am, and I understand. No one can take this from me.

In my head it's caving in, in my heart is where I begin. For the loss of your love.
