

Divinity

Jake Coco

You are something wonderful I need Something beautiful I see Little pieces of life in your eyes

You have overtaken me slowly With divinity
This is something finer than grace

What is this new light
Shining over me so bright
Like a Florescent love sign and it brings me to you
this must be love

You speak with a passion that moves me With desire that I need and it brings me to life

You breathe something honest that I seek open innocence I'm weak Caught off guard and I'm floored

What is this new light
Shining over me so bright
Like a Florescent love sign
this must be love
