

Sure Feels Right

Jake Owen

I've always had a thing for girls that dance
When they get a little tipsy
Corona cold in your hand, your brushed-back hair
I took another sip of whiskey
And I didn't let the ice cubes melt in the bottom of my plastic cup

And I said hey pretty girl you wanna get out of here?
And you looked up
Looking in your big blue eyes
Laying there that night

I said this sure feels dangerous to me
It feels like a struck match kissing gasoline
It feels a little better than it ever has
It sure feels good, baby, let's be bad
I feel your heart, I feel you there
I feel a little brave,
I feel a little scared tonight
And it sure feels right

Well, the the sunrise hit the window
And there you were
In my Alabama t-shirt
Wildflower angel, sleep like a dream
You got me thinking 'bout those three words
And I didn't sneak off like I done so many times before

And you opened up your eyes and gave me a kiss
I said give me one more
And in those twisted covers
We were more than lovers

And you said this sure feels dangerous to me
It feels like a struck match kissing gasoline
It feels a little better than it ever has
It sure feels good, baby, let's be bad
I feel your heart, I feel you there
I feel a little brave,
I feel a little scared in the morning light
And it sure feels right

It sure feels right

It sure feels dangerous to me
It feels like a struck match kissing gasoline
It feels a little better than it ever has
It sure feels good, baby, let's be bad
I feel your heart, I feel you there
I feel a little brave,
I feel a little scared tonight
And it sure feels right

And it sure feels right [3x]

Hey, babe, why don't we go out tonight
And relive that time
Corona cold in your hand, your brushed-back hair

I'll sip on my whiskey
You know I always had a thing for girls that dance
When they get a little tipsy
