

Lose My Number

James Blunt

Did you forget to call me?
Oh baby, did you lose my number?
Don't tell me that you're sorry
Whose covers are you sleeping under?

I was just across the street
And I just wanted to reach out
Thinking we could get together
And I didn't mean to stalk you
But I saw that guy you talked to Everybody knows I'm jealous

And I know it's not all about me
I know that you don't come easily
But you reach from the stars and it's worth it
If you're gonna act like we're just friends
Throw away the messages I sent
If you're playing a game, then it's workin'

Did you forget to call me?
Oh baby, did you lose my number?
(Did you lose my number?)
Don't tell me that you're sorry
Whose covers are you sleeping under?

You know I just want someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Can love
Did you forget to call me?
Oh baby, did you lose my number?
(Did you lose my number?)

And I really thought you liked me
Since you did invite me
And your modern friends to hang out
Then I guess what touched the most is
I know I've just been ghosted
Who knew you could be so calloused

Did you forget to call me?
Oh baby, did you lose my number?
(Did you lose my number?)
Don't tell me that you're sorry
Whose covers are you sleeping under?

You know I just want someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Can love
You know I just want someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Can love
Did you forget to call me?
Oh baby, did you lose my number?
(Did you lose my number?)

Did you forget to call me?
Did you forget to call me?

I was just across the street
And I just wanted to reach out
Thinking we could get together

You know I just want someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Can love
You know I just want someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Someone that I can love
Can love
Did you forget to call me?
