

Still A Long Way To Go

James Dean Bradfield

You're falling through the night
And giving in to bad dreams
Where nothing is as it seems
There's still a long way to go

And the fading glorious night
Never seems to bring you home
You think that this is your road
There's still a long way to go

I can't give you an A to Z
There's some things I just can't show
Just try to disbelieve your eyes
For this I surely know
There's a long way to go

Like laughing in the dark
To keep the dogs at bay
No matter what you might say
There's still a long way to go

Cold comfort in the dawn
The dawn that brings you round
A pale light that you've found
There's still a long way to go

I can't give you an A to Z
There's some things I just can't show
Just try to disbelieve your eyes
For this I surely know

There's a long way to go

You're falling through the night
And giving in to bad dreams
Where nothing is as it seems
There's still a long way to go
