

Any Kind Of Love

James Ingram

How can you say you love your father
When you have hate for your brother
How can you say "God bless the children"
When we have homeless mothers
Something's very wrong; something's going on
And it's gone too far, we've got to change it
Through our children's eyes
We can see the lies
Can't destroy their dreams if they're to make it

Don't you know any kind of love
Anything you've got to give will do
We just need any kind of love
So look inside your heart and make a move

Too many people pointing their fingers
Nobody's taking the blame
Sickness and poverty circle and linger
Closing in on their prey
Something's very wrong; something's going on
And it's gone too far, we've got to change it
Running from our fears
We just waste our years
Passing by the things that really matter

Don't you know any kind of love
Anything you've got to give will do
We just need any kind of love
So look inside your heart and make a move

If we're to change the world, turn around our future
We must come together, got to unite
'Cause in the scheme of things, all that really matters
Can you close your eyes at peace when you sleep at night

Something's very wrong; something's going on
And it's gone too far, we've got to change it
Through our children's eyes
We can see the lies
Can't destroy their dreams if they're to make it

Don't you know any kind of love
Anything you've got to give will do
We just need any kind of love
So look inside your heart and make a move
