Van Gogh's Dog

As far as this time will bring you together As far as these words will hold you together As far as this time will last for ever As far as this skill will endeavour As far as this dream will burst into madness As far as this peace will string you to part As far as this still will make you another As far as this pill will hold you together

Oh God, it's you I'm calling down Oh God, it's you falling Wait Oh God, it's you I'm calling down

As far as this film will take you together As far as this fall I wanted to hurt you

I don't let go, I want to say never I won't let you go into the ether

Oh God, I love you coming Oh God, I love to come with you Down, down, down, down

James
