

I Think, I Love

Jamie Cullum

I think I love
every single little crack on your face
I think I love
even our most casual embrace You don't have to try Cause I've made up my mind
Baby, I think I love you today

Remember that time you threw a can of beer at me like a stone You drunk too much wine and threw up in the taxi cab on the way home You looked like a mess
But I must confess
Baby, I think I love you today

When I think what we could do
If I could only say to you, yeah
All of these things, well do I dare
and would you care?

I think I love
everytime you honor me with a kiss
I think I love
well, there are just a million things I could list Should let you know
but maybe tomorrow
Baby, I think I love you today
