

Sad, Sad World

Jamie Cullum

So let it fall
When it meets you on the other side baby
Let it fall
We're all prisoners in a simple mind baby
Let it fall
You can grip my arm to pass the time baby
Let it fall, yeah

Will you help me paint a smile
On this sad, sad world
Will you help me paint a smile
On this sad, sad world

Your lashes dancing making my aching heart sing
The lights are flashing stirring up all this feeling
My hands are burning every time I'm touching your face
Let me surround you with all the love that you deserve
The dawn'll tell you of everything that you are worth
The blood it runs through everything we know of our fate

So let it fall
When it meets you on the other side baby
Let it fall
We're all prisoners in a simple mind baby
Let it fall
You can grip my arm to pass the time baby
Let it fall, yeah

Will you help me paint a smile
On this sad, sad world
Will you help me paint a smile
On this sad, sad world

So will you help me paint a smile
On this sad, sad world
So come and help me paint a smile
On this sad, sad world
