Or I'm waiting in vain

Somebody help me cause I'm falling

Sometimes in the morning When I wake up I shed a tear I'm hoping Come the night time You'll open the door and reappear I can promise to share All my dreams I will dare You set my heart racing when you get next to me Still I don't think you care Should I wait for your love Or I'm waiting in vain Somebody help me 'cause I'm falling Head over heels in love again You... you... You're the one for and your love I think that I would do anything You're the one for and your love I think that I would do anything I miss you I wanna kiss you The sweet scent of roses is in your hair See sometimes When I get lonely I still feel you beside me When you're not there I can promise to share All my dreams I will dare You set my heart racing when you get next to me Still I don't think you care Should I wait for your love Or I'm waiting in vain Somebody help me 'cause I'm falling Head over heels in love again You... youuu... You're the one And for your love I think that I would do anything Yeah you you you you You're the one And for your love I think that I would do anything You're the one You're the one and for your love I think that would anything You know yeah you.. you .. you're the one and for your love I think that I... I think that I would do anything I can promise to share All my dreams I will dare You set my heart racing when you get next to me Still I dont think you care Should I wait for your love

Head over heels in love again
