

Dusk, The Day After

JamisonParker

If I could I'd blow the sun out
And bury you deep within my bed
I'd give you my lungs to breathe as I do
As if you're in love
As if it's the end

And we're never waking up
(We're never waking up)
And we're never waking up
(We're never waking up)

I let my eyes move as they wish
They fall into place so jealously

And we're never waking up
(We're never waking up)
And we're never waking up
(We're never waking up)

I'm falling slowly into
All the dreams we left behind
Forever asleep

And we're never waking up
(We're never waking up)
And we're never waking up
(We're never waking up)
And we're never waking up
(We're never waking up)
And we're never waking up
