

The Here And Now

JamisonParker

Friday night, here come the crowds
And we're swallowed whole
But we breathe alone
In the here and now

All these voices melting down
I shut my eyes
And I try to hide
In the here and now

I can see the truth
In your eyes

Whisper words I'll never hear
Through the deafening
Through the broken scene
Through the endless fear

Faith in, flutters
Rushing out
When you look at me
I can see the truth
In the here and now

We're lost in the lights and the sound
(I can see the truth)
The walls all melt to the ground
(In your eyes)
And if you don't believe
I will tear the sky down right now

We're lost in the lights and the sound
(I can see the truth)
The walls all melt to the ground
(In your eyes)
And if you can't believe
I will tear the sky down for you

Through the deafening
And the broken screams
I can hear the truth

I can see the truth
In your eyes

We're lost in the lights and the sound
(I can see the truth)
The walls all melt to the ground
(In your eyes)
And if you don't believe

We're lost in the lights and the sound
(I can see the truth)
The walls all melt to the ground
(In your eyes)
And if you can't believe

I will tear the sky down for you

We're lost in the lights and the sound

(I can see the truth)

The walls all melt to the ground

(In your eyes)

And if you don't believe
