

Face to face

Jana Kirschner

I know your spirit and I know your smile,
I know your lovers and your favourite bars.
I'm so tired of your empty words,
but besides that all I'm still waiting for you to call.

Now we are standing face to face,
I feel so free, I feel no pain.
Now we are standing face to face,
I feel no pain...

It's too late, where are you, not at home.
I'm still waiting for you, at the same place,
at the same time.
I'm so tired, that I can't sleep
how stupid I've been, I thought you could be with me.

Now we are standing...

...And I've been many, many nights without you.
