

What're You Doing Tonight

Janie Fricke

Maybe I'm saying too much
After all I just met you
But I've got to say just what I feel
I hope it won't upset you

I think you're the one I've been dreaming of
With a little time we might fall in love

So what're you doing tonight
What're you doing tonight
The wind is warm and the stars are bright
What're you doing tonight

Maybe I'm going too fast
I really don't want to crowd you
And who knows
Maybe I'm wrong
I know so little about you

But there is something starting here inside
And all it needs is just a little more time

So what're you doing tonight
What're you doing tonight
The wind is warm and the stars are bright
What're you doing tonight

What're you doing tonight
What're you doing tonight
The wind is warm and the stars are bright
What're you doing tonight

What're you doing tonight
What're you doing tonight
The wind is warm and the stars are bright
What're you doing tonight
