

Every Love

Janis Ian

Every love is different
Every love's the same
Every love has memories
Every love has pain

I knew love at thirty
And I knew love at nine
But the love I know right now
Is the sweetest love I'll ever find

Every town's familiar
Every town is strange
When you're feeling lonely
Every town's the same

I have dreamed of Paris
And I have dreamed of Rome
But the dream we're in right now
Is the sweetest dream I've ever known

Touch me in the silent
Shelter of the night
Hide me safely wrapped in your arms
Till morning light

Every love remembers
Every love forgets
I've had my share of sorrows
But I have no regrets

Love is made of silver
Love is made of gold
But the love that we have made
Is the sweetest love I'll know
