

I Long For You

Janis Ian

Don't you go - don't you leave.
We'll be good, just wait and see So many things we never knew, like you need me, and I long for you I can't bear to sleep at night when you're not there to close the light Tell me why the world was born
What good's a world, when the one you love is gone
Don't leave tonight
Don't close the door
No need to fight
No call to war
We could make it, if we tried
A touch of laughter
A long goodbye
I can't go, but I can't stay Life changes so, from black and white to grey and old cliches that grow like vines, to choke the heart of the one you leave behind The hollow laughter
Empty rooms
The morning after comes too soon
You could make the angels cry but I can't take a long goodbye
So don't you go
Don't you leave We'll be good just you wait and see So many things I never knew like you need me
and I long for you
