

Without You

Janis Ian

I miss you, jealous lover
Won't you come on over
To my side of town
I need you
Like the city needs the sound of human voices
I want you
Like the winter wants the springtime

Lover, without you
The world stands alone
Without you
The past lingers on
Tomorrow becoming today
Without you, it's all the same
Without you

Outside my window
Gentle lover
The birds are singing songs of love
I need you
They are calling for the sound of laughing children
I want you
They are singing for your pleasure

Lover, without you
The world stands alone
Without you
The past lingers on
Tomorrow becoming today
Without you, it's all the same

I see you
A world without end
Then I need you
All over again
Without you the sun doesn't shine
Tomorrow is blind
Without you
