```
Every wicked thing I've ever done
Every single sin I've stumbled on
Every blackened piece of bitterness
Mended with a shard of tenderness
```

```
All of this, was wonderful and worth the heartache All of this, was beautiful and full of light All of this, was everything I ever hoped for All of this, was life
```

Every time I drank myself to God
Every time I fell and got back up
Every lie that twisted back my tongue
Every time I lost and never won
```

```
All of this, was wonderful and worth the heartache All of this, was beautiful and full of light All of this, was everything I ever hoped for All of this, was life
```

Everything must change and so it does Everything that's good inside of us Every fading hope will find its way Every dying wish will see the light of day

```
All of this, was wonderful and worth the heartache All of this, was beautiful and full of light All of this, was everything I ever hoped for All of this, was life
```
