

Six Letters Sent

Janus

Stand clear, this panic's overwhelming
Brace your knees, all of this has failed
Aim low and medicate your fear and
Pray that your time will satisfy your means

If you keep running away now
If you keep running, I wonder
Will you know my name?
Will you know my name?

The stain a lie leaves on your skin
Is a choice, a right, to feel what you feel
Aim low and medicate your fear and
Pray that your time will satisfy your means

If you keep running away now
If you keep running, I wonder
Will you know my name?
Will you know my name?

Let me drown, let me slip away
Take cover, a new war is on
Time and time again it comes
Alone inside we run
I'll move on

If you keep running away now
If you keep running, I wonder
Will you know my name?
Will you know my name?
