

Yeah we loom, and we pray and we crawl around and we feed off our own stained inside by all we hide and

We're always out to say we'll never feel the same it's not a lie it's already in you
We're always out to say we'll never feel the same
it's not a lie it's already in you

The stains we hide always rely on believing the lie carved out in your mind
The stains we hide buries all the life inside til it wears you out. Covered up we're covered now in stains

the stains
the stains
the stains

Painful lie. we avoid, arise and try to feel like We're alone stained inside by all we hide

We're always out to say we'll never feel the same
it's not a lie it's already in you
it's not a lie it's already in you

believing the lie carved out in your mind
The stains we hide buries all the life inside
til it wears you out. Covered up we're covered now

in stains
the stains
the stains
the stains

The stains we hide always rely on
believing the lie carved out in your mind
The stains we hide buries all the life inside
til it wears you out. Covered up we're covered now
