

Good Love

Jason Castro

Good Love

Oh, I finally found a silver lining
The first moment that I knew you were mine
Perfect place and perfect timing
I can see sunshine on my horizon
It always finds a way to come up on a

Chorus:

Good love, good love,
You know when you got it
It's a good love, good love
Nothing you would change about it
Bigger than your hands can hold
But it fits just like a glove
And it's a good love, good love
Good love, good love

When the world just isn't fighting fair
And everything we know is up in the air
Baby, I don't even care
'Cause every day with you is an answered prayer.
You just can't help but count your blessings in a

Chorus

Just as true history written,
You and me,
We are the definition of

Good love, good love
Mmmm
Good love, good love
Yeah
Bigger than your hands can hold
but it fits just like a glove
And it's a good love, good love
