

Runaway

Jason Castro

You got a longing inside you that's never satisfied
A hunger that your heart cannot deny
You wanna break out and find out what's right outside your door
Well you don't have to wait here any more

You could leave everything
If you're ready come with me

I'm a runaway, on my way to something better
I could never stay once I had a taste of heaven
You say you wanna be free, then be a runaway with me

There is a moment when you know it like you never did before
And the weight you carried fell right through the floor
You've got to see it to believe it, everything you didn't have
And once you do you're never looking back

Cause light can't live inside the dark
Let the world know who you are

I'm a runaway, on my way to something better
I could never stay once I had a taste of heaven
You say you wanna be free, then be a runaway with me

We're not from here
We were born to run away
We're lost but found
We were born to run away
Into the light
We were born to run away

We're not from here
We were born to run away
We're lost but found
We were born to run away
Into the light
We were born to run away and run away...

I'm a runaway, on my way to something better
I could never stay once I had a taste of heaven
You say you wanna be free, then be a runaway with me

We're not from here
We were born to run away
We're lost but found
We were born to run away
Into the light
We were born to run away and run away...
