

Wait For A Miracle

Jason Castro

Same story, same feelings just a different day
You're going through it and it makes you wanna hide away
In the shadows, in the shadows

Listen to me I know life is gonna pull you down.
It's just a season, just believe it
Won't you hear me out?
Don't you let go, don't you let go.

Wait I know you got a broken heart
Love will meet you where you are
Yeah, you're never too far
From a miracle
Wait and call upon the only name
That's strong enough to heal your pain
You're never too late for a miracle

Hope's coming like a fire and its' burning bright
Here you thought that you were stranded in your darkest night
Here comes a light now, here comes a light now.

Yeah

Just wait I know you got a broken heart
Love will meet you where you are
Yeah, you're never too far
From a miracle
Wait and call upon the only name
That's strong enough to heal your pain
You're never too late for a miracle

It's something beautiful
Something you can't explain
Open your eyes
'Cause it can move your soul
It could change your life.

Wait I know you got a broken heart
Love will meet you where you are
Yeah, you're never too far
From a miracle

Wait I know you got a broken heart
Love will meet you where you are
Yeah, you're never too far
From a miracle
Wait and call upon the only name
That's strong enough to heal your pain
You're never too late for a miracle
