

I Hate Sorry

Jason Chen

I can see a tear fall slowly
Don't even walk away, so I'm relieved
When you say you're sorry,
When you say you're sorry.

I catch you in a lie, you say you've changed,
Then you without just and think everything's okay.

But why can't I believe you even if I want to,
Don't know what you've done to me.
Guess I can't forgive you and I really want to
But it's all you ever say to me.

I hate sorry, I know that it's not true.
It don't mean a thing from you.
It makes you think
That everything's fixed with just one word,
Makes you feel better, makes me feel worse.
So I hate sorry, I hate sorry.

Maybe it's me,
I wish I knew how I get so weak
When I'm looking at you
What should I do?

But why can't I believe you even if I want to,
Don't know what you've done to me.
Guess I can't forgive you and I really want to
But it's all you ever say to me.

But why can't I believe you even if I want to,
Don't know what you've done to me.
Guess I can't forgive you and I really want to
But it's all you ever say to me.

I hate sorry, I know that it's not true.
It don't mean a thing from you.
It makes you think
That everything's fixed with just one word,
Makes you feel better, makes me feel worse.
So I hate sorry, I hate sorry.

Baby, all those little white lies you told
Built up and now it's getting old,
Don't say the word, cause I don't need
Another sorry.
All the drama that you put me through
Is weighting down on me and you,
Don't say the word that I don't need.

I hate sorry, I know that it's not true.
It don't mean a thing from you.
It makes you think
That everything's fixed with just one word,
Makes you feel better, makes me feel worse.
So I hate sorry, I hate sorry.
I hate sorry, I hate sorry.
