

When It's All Over

Jason Donovan

Should have read between the lines Should have tried to read her mind before it got too late I feel so hopeless now
I should have realised I should have seen my fate

When will I ever learn love's fire has to burn
or else it's gonna die

When it's too late, you find you'll never change her mind
You realise, in time
when it's all over

If I had my time again
I'd watch the signs, and then I'd never let you go
But that's another dream
I hear you calling me saying you're a fool

When will I understand love's a flame that has to grow
or else it's gonna die

you'll never change her mind
You realise, in time
when it's all over

she's already said goodbye
Finally, you realise

When will I ever learn

you'll never change her mind
You realise, in time
when it's all over

she's already said goodbye
when it's all over

When it's too late, you find
You realise, in time
when it's all over
