

I'll Be Home Tomorrow

Jason Eady

This hotel's just like all the rest
Perfume, towels and cigarettes
I think of you and keep to myself
But I'll be home tomorrow
I'll be home tomorrow

Tell our little girl goodnight
Tuck her in and hold her tight
Kiss her cheek for me tonight
Tell her I'll be home tomorrow
I'll be home tomorrow

Chorus:

I'm at the mercy of a night that just won't end
I give my soul to strangers, sometimes I need a friend
I can see the streetlights disappearing down the road
And I'll be home tomorrow
I'll be home tomorrow

The signal on this radio
Plays a song and it calms my soul
But just like me it comes and goes
And I'll be home tomorrow
I'll be home tomorrow

I hope you see me in your dreams
Throwing fire on gasoline
Sometimes things aren't what they seem
And I'll be home tomorrow
I'll be home tomorrow
