

Nobody Else Could Be You

Jason Reeves

I wish I can burn those words I said
Blow them all away like gases in my hands
If we could get back in your car
And drive out where this whole thing started
Maybe I could tell you what I really meant

Cause you know, you know I need you
Nobody else could be you
I know I'm lost and crazy
But you are the one that saves me

Every wall the built, you've broke in
Every door I close, you've opened
You know, you know I need you
Cause nobody else could be you, no

I was only scared to get it right
So I turned our Sunday drive into a fight
Somewhere on that old dirt road, I
Took the wheel and lost control and
Let my fear of fallin' get the best of me

But you know, you know I need you
Nobody else could be you
I know I'm lost and crazy
But you are the one that saves me

Every wall the built, you've broke in
Every door I close, you've opened
You know, you know I need you
Cause nobody else could be you

And I could never really run away
Cause you're the heart I know I can't replace

You know, you know I need you
Nobody else could be you
I know I'm lost and crazy
But you are the one that saves me

Every wall the built, you've broke in
Every door I close, you've opened
You know, you know I need you
Cause nobody else could be you, no

Nobody else could be you, no
Nobody else could be you
