

To This Day

Jason Reeves

I still wake up in the morning darling.
Look for you next to me, the way you used to be.
And I'm still making you coffee, baby.
And even though I know I'm just watching it go
Cold like the sun in December, you're my heart on the Fourth of July.

To this day
Nothing's changed. I still feel the same.
To this day.

And I still say that my love is taken.
I don't want no one else, baby there's no one else.
I still remember the best parts of you.
and I still can't believe that you would ever
Leave me like a train from the station.
You're my headlights on my way back home.

To this day
Nothing's changed. I still feel the same.
To this day.

I still think there's a chance, and there's another song
I still think there's a dance, with me inside of your arms

To this day
Nothing's changed. I still feel the same.

To this day (Don't call up missing me)
Nothing's changed. (you'll come running back to me)
I still feel the same.
To this day. (Don't call up missing me)

To this day (you'll come running back to me)
Nothing's changed.
To this day.
