

I know it's not easy
When I tell you I am leaving
From the tears in our eyes we both know that your not coming with me
It's not the first time
And it won't be the last
Just make sure you tell my baby girls that their dad will be back
We'll try to stay close
Though it's so far away
And when you open your eyes and see what I am seeing
Another sunrise
And we're still here breathing
For better or worse
These are the lives that we are leading
But our loves like an echo that keeps on repeating
That keeps on repeating
That keeps on repeating
By this time tomorrow
I'll be home in west hartford
It's like time never stopped and I am back in the place where we started
So let's go to the movies
Take the kids out to play
But whatever we do let's make it last cause we've just got today
We'll try to stay close
Though it's so far away
Cause when you open your eyes and see what I am seeing
Another sunrise
And we're still here breathing
For better or worse
These are the lives that we are leading
But our loves like an echo that keeps on repeating
And when you open your eyes and see what I am seeing
Another sunrise
And we're still here breathing
For better or worse
These are the lives that we are leading
But our loves like an echo that keeps on repeating
That keeps on repeating
That keeps on repeating
That keeps on repeating
That keeps on repeating
