

Half-Boyfriend

Jay Brannan

I don't know where we're going
But I know we've gone too far and I hope it isn't showing
But I think I love you and I can't believe you're leaving Just when I let you in and
When you had me believing
I could feel again

I could give a million reasons
Why we should not be friends
Our moods change like the seasons
My mood ends your mood begins and

You're a tease, you're a cockblocker
You're a loud mouth bitch, and a big talker,
But that's okay.
You'll grow up someday.

You're the pill I never wanted to take.
An anti-misanthrope
Mine was the heart I never thought you would break
My one hope was that I'd survive you

I've shown up for you
In ways that boy never would, but I know you'll go back to him and Maybe you should, but I hope you don't go backwards
Cuz I'm going on ahead and One day you'll wish that you had stuck with me instead

You're the pill I never wanted to take.
An anti-misanthrope
Mine was the heart I never thought you would break
My one hope was that I'd survive you

As I wander through Union Square
I remember when you followed me there
You were the stalker I kinda wanted to have Being your half-boyfriend was only half bad

You're the pill I never wanted to take.
An anti-misanthrope
Mine was the heart I never thought you would break
My one hope was that I'd survive you
