

Another Nite Another Love

Jay-Jay Johanson

Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions
Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions

Too shy to make the first step
Not confident enough
Afraid to break the friendship
We managed to build up

Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions
Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions

The first time will keep you calm
The second time will only make you wonder

Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions

I practice how to tell you
But speechless then and there
The time we say goodbye
I regret i didn't dare

Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions
Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions

The third time you'll be confused
The last time will make your world go under

Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions
Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions

The first time will keep you calm
The second time will only make you wonder
The third time you'll be confused
The last time will make your world go under

Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions
Another nite, another love
Do you remember your emotions
