

Poison

Jay-Jay Johanson

She's a flower she's a rose
Wonderful when she's closed
But you'll see, don't say I didn't warn you
Every rose has its thorn

She poisoned me like a virus
Her love is running through my veins
She is extremely contagious
All boys will get the same

Blood red lips, lovely smile
But behind something hides
You will feel, late at night
Razor teeth take a bite

She poisoned me like a virus
Her love is running through my veins
She is extremely contagious
All boys will get the same

Memories bother me
She comes back haunting me
If I could meet her once again
I'd do it all 'til the end

She poisoned me like a virus
Her love is running through my veins
She is extremely contagious
All boys will get the same
