

Whispering Words

Jay-Jay Johanson

It's Saturday evening
I sit by the phone
Planning to call you
'Cause I'm all alone
I hesitate even though I can't wait
To hear your whispering words

Is someone there with you
Or are you asleep
Have you gone out dancing
Or night shift this week
I still hesitate even though I can't wait
To hear your whispering words

If you'd pick up the phone I would tell you
The most beautiful words I know
If you'd answer now I would say it to you
Over and over again

Now I have the courage to give it a try
I dial your number but it's occupied
It's getting late but I still have to wait
To hear your whispering words

If you'd pick up the phone I would tell you
The most beautiful words I know
If you'd answer now I would say it to you
Over and over again
