

Nobody's Fault

Jaya the Cat

And it's over
And this I know
The smoke is clearing and all the soldiers are going home
And I thought we'd make it
But what the fuck did I know
Maybe I'm better off without you

And when you say it's nobody's fault, I guess you mean it's mine
And all those promises you made, they were lies
And when you say it's nobody's fault, well I guess you mean it's mine
And all those promises you made, they were lies

I don't got much in this life
I know
I don't got much in this life
Just a thorn without the rose
I don't got much in this life
When I'm walking in the shadows
I don't got much in this life
Without you

But it's over
And this I know
And I guess I miss you
And I guess I don't
And all I wish is that I got something to show for it
And I don't know how I ever let myself get slipped

And when you say it's nobody's fault, I guess you mean it's mine
And all those promises you made, they were lies
And when you say it's nobody's fault, well I guess you mean it's mine
And all those promises you made, just lies

I don't got much in this life
And this I know
I don't got much in this life
Just a thorn without the rose
I don't got much in this life
When I'm walking in the shadows
I don't got much in this life
Without you