How In The World Will I Get Over You

Jean Shepard

How in the world will I get over you when mem'ries of your love keep me so blue

And even knowing you don't care I can't stop loving you

How in the world will I get over you

How in the world will I get over you when I can't even look for someone new

And falling out of love it seems it's just too hard to do

How in the world will I get over you

How in the world will I forget your warm sweet lips

And the feel of your arms the way you held me tight

How in the world do I go about forgetting you

When I got you on my mind both day and night

How in the world will I get over you your love for me is gone I know we're through

But as long as my mind remember and my heart keeps staying true How in the world will I get over you how in the world will I get over you $\frac{1}{2}$