

I'd Like To Know (where People Go)

Jean Shepard

The lights are low the teardrops flow mis'ry is complete
I'd like to know where people go when they leave lonely street
Could there be such a place where you hurt too much to cry
Where broken hearts can never mend and I left alone to die
I love him so that's why I go where blues and mem'ries meet
I'd like to know where people go when they leave lonely street

Could there be such a place...
I'd like to know where people go when they leave lonely street