I Learned It All From You

Jean Shepard

If I'm sometimes unkind to treat you cruel dear
If I break your heart and make you blue
If I know just what to do to make you cry
Dear, it's because I learned it all from you

I once was so loving and so good to you
Then you taught me sorrow and unkindness too
I admit, I've changed but there's a reason
It's because I learned it all from you

If you hear I've done you wrong don't be surprised now
Most anything you hear now could be true
I tried so hard so long that I've stopped carin'
All because I learned it all from you

I learned how to bring you pain and hurt your pride
I know how to make you think you'll die inside
If I know just what to do to make you cry
Dear, it's because I learned it all from you
