It's A Man (every Time It's A Man)

Jean Shepard

Now who breaks a heart like a child breaks a toy it's a man every time it's a man
Who brings the heartaches and takes all the joy it's a man every time it's a man
When a man makes a blunder the whole world forgives
While she has to suffer as long as she lives
Then who's to blame if her head hangs in shame it's a man every time it's a man

When a man makes a blunder
It's a man every time it's a man
