

You're Calling Me Sweetheart Again

Jean Shepard

There's nothing so precious
The some thing you've lost
And found it somehow in the end
I lost you my darling but now you've come back
You're calling me sweetheart again

It's wonderful, heavenly back in your arms
So heartsick and lonesome I've been
No matter what happened or who's have your love
You're calling me sweetheart again

Your love was a treasure I could not replace
So nobody's sweetheart I've been
My poor heart was dead but it's living tonight
You're calling me sweetheart again

I love you more dearly than ever
Before your kiss is where heaven begins
Your heart has come home and there's happiness here
You're calling me sweetheart again