

Moonshinenight

Jeanette

Soon you will go it's the same old thing i will miss you so i know the days will go by at a snail's pace in my mind

everything you want
is everything i want, too to make the most of every moment in an ecstasy of love

this is our last moonshine night please save your breath and love me through the night
last me all through the week my love your dark brown eyes
the moon makes them shine bright kiss me good bye come back home again, stay a longer while and my thoughts of you will occupy my every my every minute

please save your breath and love

make love to me more than just once night once for monday, for tuesday, once for wednesday,
why not once for everyday

i hear your voice - it's calling me my comfort is you loving me you had away with my heart and you promised you'll always keep it close to yours

once for wednesday,
