

Leave A Mark

Jedward

We all want to be seen and heard
We all want to leave a mark on this world
Let the thunder and echoes come and go
Embark on a journey let the magic unflood

Be your own canvas
Paint the vision you see
Use whatever colours
To show how you feel

Be known as the person, who did all they could
Act like the icons in the story books
I salute those, who gave it their all
I salute those, who shot to the stars

We all want to be seen and heard
We all want to leave a mark on this world
Let the thunder and echoes come and go
Embark on a journey let the magic unflood

Before your days are numbered
Laugh out loud, do the right thing
Stand tall and proud

When all is said and done
You can look back on your life
With teardrops of joy
Knowing you did all you should

I salute those, who gave it their all
I salute those, who shot to the stars

We all want to be seen and heard
We all want to leave a mark on this world
Let the thunder and echoes come and go
Embark on a journey let the magic unflood

A breath of hope it lingers in the air
It's the dawn of a new age united we stand
I hear midnight bells ringing out a new day
We're dream chasers out of the ashes we soar

I salute those, who gave it their all
I salute those, who shot to the stars

We all want to be seen and heard
We all want to leave a mark on this world
Let the thunder and echoes come and go
Embark on a journey let the magic unflood
